WRITE YOUR OWN POEM ABOUT THE SCROOBIOUS PIP.

The Scroobious Pip is a poem by Edward Lear that was unfinished at the time of his death in 1888. In the new picture book illustrated by Charles Santore and Nicholas Santore, beasts, birds, fish, and insects gather together to try and figure out what kind of animal, exactly, the mysterious Pip is. But the Scroobious Pip resists their attempts at labeling, and simply chirps:

CHIPPETTY FLIP; FLIPPETTY CHIP;-MY ONLY NAME IS THE SCROOBIOUS PIP.

Now it's your turn to finish this famous poem! In the box below, write your own ending to the poem. And remember, The Scroobious Pip can be anything you imagine! nd all the fish in the Jellybolee

Swum in a circle about the sea,

And all the insects that creep or go

Buzzed in a circle to and fro.

And they roared and sang and whistled and cried

Till the noise was heard from side to side-

Chippetty Tip! Chippeyty Tip!

It's Only Name Is The Scroobious Pip!
